Board of Supervisors Submit Plans To Federal Court On Redistricting

Last Thursday the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County submitted two proposed plans for the redistricting of Hancock County, to Federal District Court in Biloxi.

Plan A was recommended for adoption by the supervisors, since the alternate plan was not deemed practical.

Meetings were held with the County engineer and the regional planning commission, the supervisors noted, in working out plan A, which the supervisors labeled as "most feasible."

It considers, they said, a special 1966 census taken by the supervisors, road mileage and bridge footage and compactness of beats.

Under both plans, supervisors would run from the five beats but would be elected at large.

While population is more nearly equal in the alternate plan, the supervisors said, the beats are not compact, Beat 3 is not contiguous, Beat 2 extends from the Mississippi Sound to the northern end of the county, a distance of over 35 miles, and administration of county officials would be hampered by the distances in Beats 1, 2 and 3.

Population figures presented with the plans show: Beat 1, 2,459 in Plan A and 2,459 in Plan B; Beat 2, 1,233 in Plan A and 1,233 in Plan B; Beat 3, 2,033 in Plan A and 2,033 in Plan B; Beat 4, 3,515 in Plan A and 3,515 in Plan B; Beat 5, 8,010 in Plan A and 8,010 in Plan B.

Road mileages listed were: Beat 1, 152.3 in Plan A, 148.4 in Plan B; Beat 2, 120.3 in Plan A, 127 in Plan B; Beat 3, 180.1 in Plan A, 185.4 in Plan B; Beat 4, 101 in Plan A, and 124.7 in Plan B; Beat 5, 60.1 in Plan A, and 59 in Plan B.

Bridge footages listed are: Beat 1, 454 feet in Plan A, 368 in Plan B; Beat 2, 1,935 in Plan A, 1,935 in Plan B; Beat 3, 1,233 in Plan A, 1,247 in Plan B; Beat 4, 426 in Plan A, 320 in Plan B; Beat 5, 548 in Plan A, 336 in Plan B.

The supervisors also noted that because of the large NASA buffer zone and the area, one-third of the county is not acceptable to human habitation.

This factor, they said, makes a plan based solely on population "totally impractical and almost unworkable."

The following is a photo and a brief description of the beats in Plan A:

Sheriff's Dept. Arrests Two

Last Thursday night the Hancock County Sheriff's Department apprehended two suspects for auto theft and larceny, Donald Smith and W.H. Downing were arrested for breaking into drink boxes at the Texan Cafe on Hwy. 90. The auto they were driving was a 1968 Chrysler which was reportedly stolen by the men in Freeport, Texas.

Stickers Expire March 31

Thousands of Mississippi motorists are still carrying 1968 inspection stickers on their cars. With little time remaining for the annual inspection period, the Mississippi Highway Patrol urges these people to go to a local inspection station and have their vehicles checked.

Commissioner of Public Safety Giles Crisler has stated that his officers will begin enforcing the law against expired stickers immediately after the March 31 deadline.

Crisler said, "If we are to continue reducing the death rate on Mississippi highways, we must have vehicles that are in safe condition. To insure this, the legislature enacted the state inspection law. To protect himself and others, the state's motorists should participate actively in the inspection program."

The new yellow and blue stickers must be on the windshields of the cars by March 31 or the drivers will be in violation.

Legal Battle Goes On As Paving Begins

While the contractor scheduled asphalt pouring on Ruell St. for Thursday, weather permitting, administration opponents countered with new legal moves in the street bond validity case.

A circuit court hearing has been set for July 14 on a petition of mandamus filed by objectors to the street paving program.

Petitioners' attorney, Eddie I. Jones, said that a bill of exceptions was filed with the City on March 10, and that city officials failed to comply with the law which requires that the bill of exceptions be filed with the circuit clerk "at once". The petition of mandamus seeks to have the filing by order of the court.

Complete details of the petition were not available at press time, but will follow in next week's issue.

Meanwhile, Mayor John Scandone said the move will not "hinder or delay in any way our street paving program," labeling it "only a desperate

Hancock Fleet To be Blessed

Applications for the fleet blessing which will be held in conjunction with the Hancock County Fishing Rodeo are now being accepted, according to Game Warden Pat Toomey and Father William Kelley, fleet chaplain.

The blessing will be the first for Hancock County and has been endorsed by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, Russell Elliott, President. Due to the religious significance of the blessing, the event will be held separately from the other activities, but in conjunction with the fishing rodeo.

Persons interested in participating are asked to contact Father Kelley at the Sheriff's Office (467-5101) and specify Fleet Blessing.

Mail applications will be accepted and should include name of applicant's boat, owner's name, address and telephone number, boat length, type of craft (sailing or motor), and Mississippi registration.

Applications should be received by Father Kelley, Hancock County Sheriff's Office, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520.

Compton said that it seemed appropriate for the Commission to assume responsibility for the program, which, in other districts, has been necessarily assigned to navy or specially-created agencies.

Pink Ladies and Candy Strippers Give Much in Hospital Comfort

The Pink Lady, the Candy Stripper and the Cheer Cart are familiar sights at Hancock Hospital. These volunteer workers have been a part of the Hospital scene since the Auxiliary was formed in February of 1962.

When the Women's Auxiliary of Hancock County Hospital was organized, the by-laws stated: "The purpose of this organization shall be to promote and to advance the welfare of the Hancock County Hospital through ways approved by the governing board of the hospital. This purpose shall be accomplished by interpretation of the hospital to the public through services to the Hospital and its patients in a manner satisfactory to the Hospital Board and in harmony with the life of the community." Over the years these Auxiliary members have continually worked toward this purpose in spite of many changes in the Hospital and the membership itself.

In October of 1962 the Cheer Service was begun, and shortly thereafter a Cheer Cart was donated to the Auxiliary by a "friend of the hospital". This Cart is stocked with items which may be needed by patients and taken around to all rooms daily by the Candy Strippers on duty.

School Receives New Telescope

Brother Lee Barker, S.C., principal of St. Stanislaus High School, announced that the science department of the school has received a new telescope valued at five hundred dollars. This telescope will be used by the science club at St. Stanislaus for the observation of stars, galaxies, sunspots and planets. It is equatorially mounted on a heavy-duty pedestal and is clock driven for tracking stars and for taking time exposure pictures of distant galaxies.

The newly acquired telescope is an Astro-100 inch reflector-mirror type with a lens speed of F:8 and an eighty-inch focal length. It is equipped with a 6X Delux star finder for sighting. There are dual setting circles calibrated in degrees for finding stars, galaxies and other objects in the sky, one on the polar and another on the declination axis. It has a light-gathering capacity of about 120,000 stars from stars of the first magnitude to the seventh and eighth magnitude, and on clear nights without any atmospheric disturbances, even to the ninth and tenth magnitude.

Hancock General To Observe Hospital Week

Who was the lady with the slide rule? That is what the famous nurse, Florence Nightingale, has been called, in addition to the more popular "Lady with the Lamp." Her birthday, May 12, coincides with the observance of National Hospital Week, May 11-17. In years past, National Hospital Week has laid much stress on how the hospital has served as a kind of self-sufficient community within a community. This year, "Pathway to Progress in Community Health Care" emphasizes how the hospital is more and more taking its services out into the community, to the extent of developing new programs and facilities to do so.

When she founded the first hospital school of nursing in London more than a century ago, she was establishing the hospital in its present day role as an educational institution. Today, education of personnel is one of the main functions at Hancock General Hospital and hospitals throughout the nation. Although famous even in her own time for her expert and compassionate care for wounded soldiers of the Crimean War, Florence Nightingale was known in medical circles for her impressive range of skills. The slide rule was indicative of her use of scientific data gathering methods, her abilities as a statistician, and her graphic methods of presenting factual evidence.

In fact, Miss Nightingale was more than a nurse. Her skills would fall under today's mushrooming category called "paramedical careers" — careers of hospital personnel having specialized training who work closely with the medical staff to provide the total services necessary to the patient's care.

Mr. Blackledge, administrator of the hospital, explained that para-medical personnel perform their work at the direction of a physician. Nurses, LPN's, Aides and Nursing Assistants, work directly with the patient. Others work in such areas as pharmacy, laboratory, medical library and medical records.

Miss Nightingale once said, "Nursing is helping people to live. Nursing is a progressive art in which to stand still is to have gone back." The words have not lost their freshness, and they apply today not only to nurses, but to any professional in the health care field, Blackledge observed.

Just a glance at the headlines tells us that modern medical care has not been standing still. Wide and rapid advances in medical science and a like discipline have become almost a way of life.

"Moreover, community hospitals across the nation are beginning to go beyond their traditional role of providing care for the more seriously ill or injured to include community services for prevention of disease and injury, and a broadening range of outpatient and home care programs," he said. "Hospitals are planning together to improve the health picture of whole communities."

"What improved medical science and the hospital's expanding role in total community health services mean for everyone is better and more accessible health care. What they mean for someone in, or considering, a position in the health field are virtually limitless, rewarding career possibilities."

As growing knowledge requires more specialization and as hospitals reach out into their communities, there is under way a proliferation of health careers, so much so that the largest hospitals often have a staff that answers to more than two hundred job descriptions.

"In fact, whatever a person's age, sex, experience and interests happen to be, there is every possibility that he or she can find a rewarding career in the hospital field," Blackledge said. "Often, what the person needs to know can be learned in the many educational and training programs of the hospital."

"And, with continued training, a person can 'grow' into more challenging and responsible positions."

A few of the careers growing in prominence — some of them requiring supporting staff — include: biomedical engineering, data processing, dietetics, accounting, pharmacy, inhalation therapy, medical records librarian, medical social worker, medical technician, nuclear medical technologist, nursing aide, occupational therapy, physical therapy, recreational therapy, radiologic technology, speech therapy, and surgical aides.

As hospitals increasingly direct their efforts to the community at large, a number of personnel in administration, community relations, health information, and vocational guidance, go out and advise people on what the hospital's plans are, how to get in contact with any needed health services, and how to keep themselves and their families well.

"The outlook for anyone launching a career in the health field has never been better," Blackledge said. "Not only do personnel shortages currently

Bridge Tender at Pearl River Retires

Elliott R. Giveans, popular bridge tender stationed on the Pearl River at the Mississippi-Louisiana line, will retire from the Mississippi State Highway Department April 9th after logging a work attendance record regarded by the department as one of the finest in its history. Although he has worked but 11 years and three months, Giveans never missed a day of a seven days-a-week, 12 hours-a-day schedule during the entire time. He and Highway Department Officials are rightfully proud of this achievement.

W.H. "Shag" Pyron, Southern District Highway Commissioner, praised the faithful employee on the eve of his retirement. "Certainly we of the Highway Department are grateful to Mr. Giveans for his diligence in being on the job every day of every week of every year during his entire time with the Department," the Commissioner stated. "We of the Highway Department want to wish this dedicated man the best of everything in his retirement."

Elliott Giveans was born in Bay St. Louis on March 9, 1902, son of the late Sam and Emma Nolas Giveans. His father was a native of New Jersey, his mother a native of Bay St. Louis.

On January 10, 1958, Giveans started his employment as a draw bridge tender for the State Highway Department on the Pearl River Bridge near Pearllington. It was a seven days-a-week job, and it was literally treated as such by Giveans. Mrs. Giveans is the former Katie Bennett of Pearllington. The Giveans have two children, John Elliott Giveans and Mrs. Chandler Keynolds, both of whom reside in Pearllington with their families.

The retiring Giveans is an enthusiastic hunter and fisherman, and since he still enjoys good health, the deer and fish will have to beware of Elliott Giveans when he pursues his hobby.

HAVING AT PRESENT a certain amount of excess time in which to observe certain mannerisms of others, we've become almost fanatically interested in superstition. The fact that every single person who happened to mention that he or she managed to escape the recent flu epidemic accompanied the statement with a series of little taps on wood, was what really began the train of thought.

WE WONDERED if beliefs in certain omens were more or less colloquial in origin and did a bit of research on the subject. To our amazement, one of the better known encyclopaedia listed as being common almost every superstition of which we've ever heard, and origins of some were most enlightening. Knocking on wood, for instance, has as its basis an ancient legend to the effect that spirits lived in trees and rapping upon timber would ward off bad luck.

SEVEN YEARS OF misfortune is said to befall anyone breaking a mirror because persons living in the dim dark past believed that spirits existed in images. Also mentioned were the old black cat myth, the aversion of many to walk beneath a ladder; wearing clothes inside-out, opening an umbrella inside a house, and even the childhood rhyme "step on a crack, break your mother's back"—although no explanation was given for these. So universal is the fear of the number 13 that many hotels, steamships, etc. skip that digit entirely when numbering rooms and even floors.

AS IS THE way of human nature, there are good luck charms to ward off dangers of tempting fate—Amulets, the left hind foot of a rabbit, four-leaf clovers and horseshoes (only if hung with prongs up); but these are far outnumbered by occurrences said to bring tragedy in one form or another.

OF COURSE, the article stated that present-day science has a logical explanation for almost every thing in nature, and knowledge of natural causes helps to explain cause and effect. It also said that superstition decreases disproportionately with the amount of education one possesses. True, but we wonder just how many of our readers are completely free of at feeling a tiny twinge of nervousness when flagrantly violating at least one of the above mentioned "no-no's"? If so, we would certainly like to hear from you—and don't cheat. Your writer has for years been absolutely certain that giving credence to such omens were beneath our dignity—yet only yesterday we found ourselves unconsciously tossing a pinch of salt over our left shoulder after the shaker tipped over on the table. We are also quite aware that a tiny measuring worm has nothing to do with taking measurements for a shroud, but none-the-less, the presence of one of the odd little crawling animals causes an involuntary shudder. Now that we've gotten so hepped on the subject, we'd really like very much to hear of any superstitions not mentioned above—just write Box 395, Waveland or phone 467-4231.

ST. STANISLAUS SIDELINE Club's annual seafood dinner attracted the largest crowd to date Friday night. Bro. Alban and Slim Lader outdid themselves in displaying culinary talents and the innovation of the new take-out line proved an excellent idea, as a steady stream of those preferring to eat at home poured in and out between 5 and 8 p.m. Just a few who dined in the school cafeteria included Jan and Gus Aime, Hazel and Ted Breland, Jean and Andre Arceneaux, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Arceneaux, Anna and Gilbert Gayaut, Marion and Russell Elliott, Mary Alice and Joe Benvenuti, Mike and Sam Cuevas, Janet and Don Everett, Alice and Johnny Scafide, Linda and Tommy Kidd, Dee and Buddy Dodson, Edith and Warren Carver, Evelyn and Lew Monti, Betty Lader, "Bec" Lader, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Higgins, Vanda Mae and Clarence Lader, Ruth and Fred Curet, Nancy and Charles Russ, the Peck Mastrays, Mattie and D. W. North, Mary and Sylvan Kuhn, Nona and Harold Zimmerman and oodles and oodles of others. Among those helping serve were Buddy Pitalo, Ron Hardy, Gary Wilson, Clyde Lader and Dusty Rhodes.

APRIL 14th MAY sound a wee bit distant, but the New Orleans Philharmonic will arrive to present its 75th annual concert in Bay Junior High gymnasium, before you know it! This mention is to remind all who like to go "whole hog" in the way of dress that more and more symphony lovers are attending this function formally attired each year. However, for those who prefer simpler dress, what one wears is simply a matter of personal choice.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN DE SARDON arrived Saturday to spend the weekend with their daughter Joan and son-in-law Red Glass. On Saturday night they feasted on steaks in observance of Mr. de Sardon's birthday and on Sunday, they celebrated Joan's birthday. While on the subject, we'll send Mrs. de Sardon a much belated greeting. She cut her cake way back on January 22nd.

CELEBRATING THEIR 54th wedding anniversary on Wednesday, Mar. 19, were Mr. and Mrs. George E. Baul of Waveland and New Orleans. Joining them for a dinner party were their daughters Dorothy Fouquet and Anabel Magendie, their granddaughter Carol Magendie and a very good friend, Mrs. Warren Braun, all of New Orleans.

FRAN (MRS. URBAN) Stork was happily celebrating her birthday on Friday, Mar. 21, gentleman really knows how to prepare the Italian delicacy. LAURA MILLER and Barbara Rappold, both teachers in the Crescent City, spent the weekend in their Gordon Street home. They had as guests Mrs. Mary Vazzano and daughter Anita of Leland, Miss.

HERBERT WISE has been released from Ochamner and is now recuperating at his Boardman Avenue home.

Homemakers Meets Thursday

Stress members of Bay St. Louis Homemakers Club answered the roll call with a helpful hint when the group met last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Jeanne Williams with Mrs. Eugenia Necaise as co-hostess.

Mrs. Williams led the group in reading the Homemakers Creed; and Mrs. Leroy Luke, president, conducted the business session.

Plans for the annual flower and vegetable show to be held April 30 at the Agriculture Center, were discussed; and it was announced that a workshop on molding will be held April 10.

Mrs. Edna Walley gave a demonstration on making corages; several articles were exhibited by members and new year books were distributed. Mrs. Francis Pealook, dress review chairman, asked members who are participating to complete their entrance cards and return them at the next meeting.

Mrs. H. M. Clanton won the entrance prize. Mrs. David Peranich and Mrs. Harris Boudreaux will be hostesses for the April meeting.

MISS JOEL J. JOHNSTON

Johnston-Ladner Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Johnston, Sr., of Bay St. Louis, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joel Jeanette, to Mr. Herman Ray Ladner, son of Mrs. Prince Ladner, also of Bay St. Louis, and the late Mr. Ladner.

The wedding will be solemnized at 2 p.m. on Saturday, April 26, at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. A reception will be held immediately following the ceremony at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Bay St. Louis.

Friends and relatives are being invited through this medium, as no invitations are being sent.

Both the prospective bride and groom are graduates of Bay High School. Miss Johnston is an employee of South Central Bell Telephone Co. in Gulfport, while Mr. Ladner is employed in Pascagoula.

Eight Meet at Waveland Club

Eight members answered the roll call when the Waveland Extension Homemakers Club met last Tuesday in the home of Mrs. S. Manie with Extension Economist Miss Ruth Strahan.

Miss Strahan discussed means of losing weight and exhibits for the fall County Fair. The next meeting will be held April 15 in the home of Mrs. Edward LeVasseur.

ward like-tall leaves from still nearly naked branches; masses of fluffy bright green clover and the sounds of the first lawn mowers as eager beaver early workers take to the out-of-doors.

PAT AND JOE VIGUERIE drove into New Orleans last Saturday to attend the very large, equally elaborate Bourgeois-Casman nuptials.

THE ERNEST MIERS were among the many New Orleansians weekending in Waveland.

JEANNE AND FRED Lister were also here and report that son Freddie has just arrived home from Vietnam and has returned to reserve status in the U.S. Navy, while son Larry left last week for Guam as a member of the Naval Air Reserve.

WE WANT to send a get well wish to Mr. Carl Cater who is now hospitalized at the Marine Hospital.

CORRECTION - Russell Elliott says he wouldn't dream of spending time in any hospital other than Hancock General. He's now up and about looking very fit after apparently completely recovering from his recent illness. Sorry we "sent" him to Gulfport in last week's column.

AFTERMATH of the St. Patrick's Day parade—believe it or not Mela Dee (Mrs. Ed) Cunningham's visiting mother, Nila (Mrs. William) Barkley of San Diego, Cal., actually managed to lose her way on Coleman Avenue during all of the excitement. She had parked her car near Felder's Supermarket and somehow became lost in the mob. Nila only knew the vehicle was near a grocery store, and someone mis-directed her to Scripps'.

RECEIVED A lovely card from our traveling friend Hazel (Mrs. Charles) Dahlin. As the envelope was postmarked New Orleans, we'll be expecting to hear from her when she next spends the weekend in her Broad Street vacation home.

ANGELIQUE ARCENEAUX celebrated her ninth birthday at a party at the Hillcrest Drive home of her parents Jean and Andre.

SHIRLEY AND JOE RICHARDSON tossed a real wedding in observance of their 19th wedding anniversary. The actual date was March 17, but they held the party at the Flamingo the day before, Sunday, the 18th. St. Patrick's Day colors were carried out in all decorations, the huge tiered cake and even members of the band, Nora and the Night Owls, were decked out in emerald hued costumes. Ann (Mrs. Clyde) Craig cut and served the cake—among the many guests were: Rita and Leroy Necaise, Frank, Barbara, Frank Jr., and Missy Necaise; David Necaise, Millie and Leo Lindsey, Ray Depreo, Joyce Duval, Cynthia Hanson, Jerry and Mary Ladner, Dora and Marvin Padgett, Barbara Ralph and Lisa Ramsey, Betty and Clyde Ladner, Myrl, Lawrence, Larry and Allen Lafontaine; Helen and Joe Barbo and George and Don McIntyre. Also Yvonne and Norman Benigno, Nora and Roy Knight, Leah and Ike Lang, the Robert Perkins, the Cecil Frensenborgs, the John Valdes, the Wiley Price, Mrs. C. Register.

ANOTHER HAPPY birthday wish goes to Margaret (Mrs. Jesse) Breland, Margaret cut her cake on Saturday, Mar. 22. A READER in far away Roswell, New Mexico, Mrs. Alta Solomon, writes her son, Waveland resident—Richard "Cali," that as of the first day of spring, 21 inches of snow covered the ground in Roswell. So deep were the drifts that Mrs. Solomon was forced to rescue her Siamese cat after the unsuspecting feline took a leap off the porch and became buried in the icy flakes.

ANIMAL NOTES - Time once again to remind all dog owners that if you haven't taken your pet to his personal physician for the annual rabies shot, you'd best do so.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS - LONG THE WAY - Clusters of empty shoes and socks here and there along the beach as small owners frolic in the sand; flocks of tiny birds flowing ground-

D. McRae, Ed Ryan, Tommy Johnson, Ben Miller and Bobby Benigno. And, Bobby Compretta, Billy Ladner, Nickie Kingston, Sidney Sandoz, Aloysius Dahl, George Lantz, Marvin Cayser, Larry Santinelli, Elmer Thornton, Jr., Johnny Falder, Jr. Ralph Gifferty, Roy O'Toole, Theresa Wingate, Hilda Spiers, Catherine Bates, Betty Ramonoff, Greg and Eddie Richardson, Lucky Layne and of course, Shirley and Joe's four children, Shirley Jo, Linda, Rickie and Mary Magdalen.

VISITING THE HERBERT Ratenburgs is their very talented granddaughter Judy Berns who at one time attended Bay High. Judy majored in dramatics and is enroute to Norfolk, Va. where she has the leading role in a stage production.

SOME MOST interesting weekend residents have purchased homes on the beach. Mr. and Mrs. Kerry P. Redmann are renovating the residence at 986 South Beach. Mrs. Redmann is the former Audrey Schuh, well known for operatic appearances with the New Orleans Opera Association; in Europe and in New York, where she sung the title role in the modern version of Madame Butterfly.

MR. AND MRS. CHESTER Rieth are engaged in landscaping the grounds at 956 South Beach. Mr. Rieth is vice-president of the New Orleans Opera Association.

A VERY SPECIAL get well wish goes to little Miss Kirsten Byrd, Laurie and Gary's youngest, who has been critically ill in Gulfport Memorial Hospital. NEITHER GEORGETTE nor Norman Hall has changed in the least, although it's been quite a few years since we've seen either. They were in Waveland Saturday for the purpose of taking Georgette's father, Mr. Thomas Brockman, out to dinner.

Congratulation and a welcome to our fair city goes to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Strahan who were married March 22. Mrs. Strahan is the former Pat Lee from Leetown. They are now residing at Bay Royale.

Tulips For a King

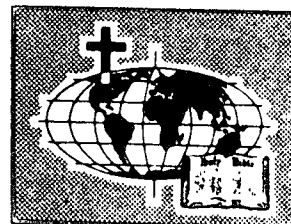

The lake is green today. Sparkling waves ripple across its surface, borne of the same gentle breeze that ruffles through my tulips. I walk among them, filling my arms with beauty, listening to the murmur of early morning.

Soon I gather up baskets of orange and scarlet, pale pink and lemon yellow and hurry to the church in the valley.

My heart is full. I'd come to this church, some months ago, burdened with sorrow. Here, I'd found comfort and purpose in the life and teachings of God's Son. Since then, I'd been happier than I ever thought possible.

Now, in the stillness, I whisper a long-ago psalm, "Hosanna to the Son of David!" And I lay blossoms gently among palm branches, as though in His presence.

Attend your church. Find the joy and happiness you've been seeking. Sing hosannas to the living Lord.

Louie Ladner Signs With Pearl River College

Louie Ladner (6' 1 3/4") senior guard has signed a two-year scholarship with Coach Ham-mill, the new head basketball coach at Pearl River Jr. College. Coach Hammill comes to Pearl River College after having a most successful 4 years as head basketball coach at Improve High School.

Louie Ladner, a 4-year letterman for Hancock North Central has had a most brilliant career. Louie's over all average was 10.8 points per game in his last three seasons. He also has an over of 7.1 rebounds for the three years.

Coach Roland Ladner of Hancock says "Louie should do well in College basketball. He has the ability, determination and leadership that it takes to make a good college player." Coach Ladner says "Louie worked well in the off season for self improvement and this is a must to become a good athlete."

Louie did a fine job quarter-backing for the Hancock basketball team during his Junior year, and the first part of this season as a senior. Just before Christmas he tore a cartilage in his knee and missed all of Hancock's games until just before the play-off. Coach Ladner said, "he was not able to go more than 75% with the knee brace he had to wear, but his ball handling determination and leadership that his team mates respected him for gave the team confidence that helped them win Dist. "B" and South Mississippi "A" Championships."

Louie was selected to the All-Gulf Coast Conference team as a sophomore. As a Junior he was selected to the All-Tournament in each Invitational Tournament he participated in, to the Gulf Coast Conference, District team, South Miss. Team, and the all State Tournament team. This season he was selected to the District Eight team and South Miss. Tournament team.

William Carey Completes Best Season in History

The William Carey College Crusaders ended their best basketball season in the school's history on Tuesday, March 4 with a 76-63 defeat at the hands of the tough Jackson State Tigers. The loss came in the finals of the District 27 NAIA tourney at Athens, Ala. The Crusaders ended up with a very respectable 19-6 mark. They handed each opponent at least one defeat with the exception of Jackson State.

The team finished with some impressive credentials in many departments. For example, a 51.9 field goal percentage and a 69.1 free throw percentage. Carey outscored its opponents 46.1 to 34.3 and outscored them 83.9 to 76.2.

Mike Necaise, a 6-5 sophomore from Bay St. Louis, Miss., led the team in scoring with an 18.2 average and a single game high of 40 against Baptist Christian. He also grabbed 8.4 rebounds per game.

OPPOSITE L & N DEPOT -- BAY ST. LOUIS

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

The weather last Sunday was a dilly as far as fishing, golfing and other sports were concerned. It not only rained but poured practically all day. Storm tides put water as far as 100 feet over the land around the rivers and bayous. Saturday bass and perch were hitting and a number of them were caught. The rain should muddy the water causing it to be bad for fishing for the next week or so.

Members of Sea Scout Ship 216 had to cancel their boat trip to NASA and the guided tour of the test site Sunday due to the bad weather.

Shooting match was also postponed until later.

Joe Dobrow, grandson of Al Mercier, 10 years old made an unusual catch of fish while fishing off the public pier at Waveland when he caught 3 stringers and 2 catfish.

Joe hails from Houston, Texas and attends G.C.M.A. at Gulfport. He said he enjoyed catching them anyhow. Better luck next time, Joe.

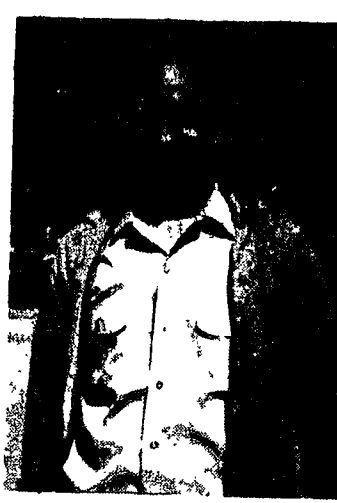

Alton Ladner is another who loves to fish and hunt. Alton said he gets his share of game and fish.

Pat Mitchell gave George (Genie Poo) Mitchell a newboat for his birthday. It is an 18 foot Lansar with a 100 H.P. Mercury motor. You can bet he will put this birthday gift to lots of use. How lucky can a fellow be?

Charles Pucheu was telling us of the big fish he catches around Delacroix Island. Charles is working on a tug boat which operates in that area.

John W. Keller was given a birthday party by Mary and Pops at Chateau Seu Lounge last week. He celebrated his 70th birthday with friends.

Collin H. McCaslin after all these years has decided to take up fishing. It's good for what ails you, Buddy.

Lee Bourgeois is one of those fishermen who catches most anything. He goes after hard and soft crabs, fish, both salt and fresh water, and when the season is in gets shrimp, oysters and flounders. Truly an outdoors man.

Was sorry to hear of the deaths of Jimmy Letellier and Edward (Gumbo) Saucier. They were both good sports and will be missed by their fishing friends and others.

James Vester Ingersoll of Galax, Virginia is visiting his son, James Robert. He loves to fish and will put in a lot of his time after the finny tribe while here.

David Norman, eleven-year-old son of Major B. T. Norman catches a lot of fish when off from school. David makes a lot of trips out to the marshes with his dad and is good at both fresh and salt water fishing.

Gene Lueder besides owning a fishing camp loves to fish also. Gene gets a kick out of catching catfish as well as eating them.

Hugh Flirin when not painting signs winds a wicked fishing pole. Hugh said he has fished from "Natchez to Mobile."

Bill Stewart owner of the Show Boat has been catching some nice oysters. Thanks for the ones we ate on the half shell, partner.

Dr. Emile Bertucci was over Saturday and caught some nice perch and trout. Doc loves his fishing especially with the fly rod and casting. He knows his stuff when it comes to landing them. Hurry back, Doc.

Local ditches are full of little crawfish right now. They make a perfect bait for catching green trout and perch. A small shrimp net is all that is needed for catching them. They will live a long time if kept in wet saw dust. Another good bait is small grass shrimp.

Roy Cagle was down visiting his family and friends. Was a pleasure to see and greet him again.

It is said: Hugging a curve on the road is more disastrous than hugging one in the living room.

Be sure when fly fishing that your line floats. A sinking line causes the bug not to float and makes it hard to retrieve. Cleaning a line also helps.

Fishing in some of those closed in arenas is like playing golf in the parlor.
